THE NEW G. A. E. HALL.

Dunham Post 141 in their New Home—Speeches by Col. J. A. Sexton and Others—Music.

The members of Dunham Post 141, Grand Army of the Republic, last night, took possession of their elegantly appointed new hall on the third floor of O. Powers' new block, at the corner of South Water and Wood streets. It was built to order, and is a well-ventilated room 40x22 feet in size, with water and other conveniences, hooks for hats and cloaks, and also two roomy closets. The large and smaller rooms are all nicely carpeted and each is fitted up with fine furniture upholstered in red plush. The woodwork is polished Alabama pine, and the painting of the corrugated iron ceiling, is in red, white and blue. The Post pictures ornament the white walls, and there are self-acting drop curtains at the windows. It is truly a beautiful home for the Grand Army and Woman's Relief Corps, and one they long have sought. A fine organ, the gift of the W. R. C., is one of the new pieces of useful furniture.

THE DEDICATION

was attended by about 500 people. The distinguished guests of the Post were Col. James A. Sexton, Commander of the Illinois Department; Col. J. W. Burst, Post Department Commander; H. P. Thompson, Post Department Adjutant, and H. S. Dietrich, Commander of Post 23, all of Chicago, who arrived on the afternoon and were driven to the St. Nicholas hotel in charge of the local committee. The gentlemen were shown about the city in the evening and given a good idea of the attractiveness of the hospitable birthplace of the Grand Army organization. The ladies attended the dedicatory reception in large numbers, and their smiling presence added much to the enjoyment of the eventful evening. Capt. R. P. Lytle, past commander, was master of ceremonies, and L. L. Crosthwait had charge of the music. The choir sang "Marching Through Georgia," when after delivering a brief address of welcome, Captain Lytle introduced Department Commander Sexton, who was given a warm reception. The Colonel is a man of fine presence, and while he claimed not to be an orator, he delivered an address that was highly appreciated by the company. He congratulated the Post on having such a beautiful hall and was grateful for the cordial welcome he had received in this prohibition city (referring to the fact that yesterday was election day with saloons closed). He alluded to the fact that the old veterans are rapidly passing away—40 in Chicago since last year, and 90 in the department, all gone to meet Lincoln, and Grant and Logan. It is said to reflect that our members are steadily growing less. The speaker was glad to see the children and good mothers gathered about him. The children especially and the foreigners who come to our land are to be taught patriotism and it is the duty of the G. A. R. to do that. They can learn the lesson from the old veterans. Applause.

Comrade Thompson delivered a most address complimenting the Post on the new home, which he said was finer than any possessed by the 3000 G. A. R. men in Chicago. He related several yarns that provoked general laughter.

Song—"Rally Around the Flag Boys."

Col. J. W. Burst, who is registrar of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission at Chicago, and a very clever talker, was next introduced. He discussed Comrade Thompson in spinning stories, telling about the cotton-tailed rabbit in a battle and the soldier who wanted to lose his time in an engagement.

The Colonel spoke of the Brigadiers in office at Washington, of the solid organization of the G. A. R., and of the $700,000 home for destitute and disabled soldiers at Quincy. He spoke of the noble work accomplished during the war by the ladies, of the anxiety and sufferings of the brave men, and he also alluded to the heroism of the Women's Relief Corps and its work of charity in all large and small cities. In closing the Colonel again congratulated the Post on possessing so beautiful hall. Applause.

Commander H. S. Dietrich, of Post 23, was more than pleased to be present on such an important occasion. He made a handsome talk of about five minutes duration.

Rev. James Miller was received with unbounded enthusiasm by the veterans, who had not forgotten his able memorial address on May 27th. The clergyman spoke briefly, extolling the organization and regretting that he could not become a member. He made a pleasing allusion to the alleged political and religious character of the order, and spoke of the election of Dr. Newman as one of the Methodist Bishops, through the influence of the G. A. R. Short addresses were also delivered by G. R. Steele, J. G. Badenhansen, John Ulrich, Rev. S. F. Gibb and Rev. Prettyman, of Shelbyville, a colored veteran, the latter causing much amusement.

During the evening the visitors registered their names at the entrance, and everybody had a good time promending and exchanging personal greetings.

Sales of Real Estate.

W. H. Hartman to C. F. Emery, quit claim to 21 feet off the east side of lot 11, block 3, town of Marion, $1600.

A. T. Risley to Hannah Bartholomew, lot in Oglesby's addition on North Main street, $300.

Livona Tooly to Joseph Giesinger, one acre in 30, 18, 4, $250.

John Edwards to Susan McMillan, lot 8, block 15, R. R. addition to town of Macon, $1000.

Philip Phillips To-Night.

The renowned Philip Phillips, the singing pilgrim, is giving a series of very fine entertainments at the opera house, which merit liberal patronage. Last night he sang several songs, in which the audience joined, and then by means of handsome views took the people from New York to India, bringing them home with religious songs, the audience will go from India up the Red Sea to Palestine, to Egypt, and to Italy. The religious and temperance songs are a pleasing rest to the piano music scenes. Mr. Phillips' voice has lost none of its richness and charm. Go to-night.

Any time not well served by my men, telephone No. 100, and I will promptly correct all errors. D. A. MERRY, 30-dk

The Circuit Court.

Judge Hughes convened the June term of court yesterday afternoon, and after delivering the charge to the grand jury, heard a few motions on the chancery and common law dockets. Charles Towler, of Friends Creek, was appointed foreman of the grand jury. On petition of all the members of the bar there will be no trial cases until next Monday when the petit juryman will report for duty. The lawyers want to go to the St. Louis convention. Doubtless the court will take another recess June 19th when the Republican national convention will be held.

In court this morning Judge Hughes appointed Isaac R. Mills state's attorney pro tem, to succeed Judge Vail. Mr. Mills will perform the duties of the office until the board of supervisors meets next Tuesday and elects a prosecuting attorney to serve until December, when the state's attorney to be elected in November will qualify.

A Great Show for the Money.

The W. C. Coup show gave two splendid performances beneath the big tent on the Wabash lot yesterday afternoon and last night, and will give two entertainments daily until Thursday night, playing at 10 and 20 cents. The show is the greatest on earth for the money. The attractions include James Robinson, the champion bareback rider of the world, his son Clarence and the Scotts, all ring people, the funny clown, Pete Coaklin, the wonderful trained horses and the well-known Elliott family. Don't fail to see the Coup show to-night. Go down on the street cars and get off at Morgan street. Take the children.

Decatur, 6—Danville, 5.

A well pleased audience of fair size was at the ball park yesterday afternoon to witness a pretty and stubbornly fought game between the Decatur and Danville teams. It was largely a battle of pitchers, both doing exceptionally fine work.

Smith excoiling Lookabaugh in fielding and strike outs and skilful work at critical points, notably when there were two and three men on bases. Tapst, the new man played well at first and while Lindley did not show up at all at second he did some work with the stick; Campbell did fairly well in right field, but the great playing of the game was the fielding of Conley and Hoffman, the former making a phenomenal running catch of Lotz's hit that looked good for three bases and the latter almost running in from the fence back of second base to pull down one and two baggers. Legg does great work as backstop and like Smith he goes for everything in and out of sight. It took 12 innings to win, the score being tied in the seventh on Lindley's only bad error, which let in Lotz. Devore made an inexcusable error in the fourth inning which filled the bases, but fortunately Smith retired the side on strike outs. Conley made but one hit in the game, that was in the last inning. It brought in two men and won the game. Lotz and Lookabaugh led in batting for the visitors. Decatur now occupies fifth place in the pennant race and may yet get nearer the top, but Smith can not do all the pitching.

THE JUDICIAL ELECTION.

J. W. Wilkin and E. P. Vail Elected Supreme and Circuit Judges.

The returns from the outside counties show that a light vote was polled yesterday. Jacob W. Wilkin elected supreme court judge without opposition, and E. P. Vail, of Decatur, will have 3000 to 5000 majority over D. P. Bunn, prohibition candidate. The vote was a very light one, and there is no telling from the figures whether the bulk of those voting were Democrats or Republicans. The vote shows that nearly all who went to the polls voted for Judge Wilkin, and that for circuit judge the votes were divided without much reference to politics, Democrats generally voting for Bunn, though a few voted for Vail, while some Republicans also voted for Bunn. The vote for Bunn does not represent the Prohibition strength, but a mixture of all parties.
